SOLARIUM

Richard Hallberg/Barbara Wiseley

On a daily basis, California designers Richard Hallberg and Barbara Wiseley bring their keen appreciation for natural materials to the manufacture of products for Formations. In the Solarium, surrounded by spacious views of a tree-filled landscape, the design duo assigns new meaning to the concept of "being one with nature," by combining Formations' pieces with rope chairs and items from Dennis & Leen collections, their other commercial endeavor. An eighteenth-century faience lion presides over an antique French limestone console from Exquisite Surfaces, adding a bit of old-world to the stylish mix.

MORNING ROOM

Richard Hallberg/Barbara Wiseley

A seventeenth-century wooden wellhead floats above a gessoed stone console on one wall of the octagonal Morning Room designed by Richard Hallberg and Barbara Wiseley. A subtle nod to the exterior resonates in custom wallpaper handpainted with flora and fauna. Anchored by four polychromed cabinets, the room is reminiscent of a European breakfast room, set with eighteenth-century French porcelain, antique and new silver and gleaming crystal. Its rustic flooring and leaded windows reinforce the artful illusion of a romantic manor set in the English countryside.
